

Join one of FORCE Technology's aerospace NDT courses

FORCE Technology has been approved by SCANDT, Scandinavian NDT Board, to organise aerospace NDT courses according to EN 4179.

Courses within the following methods are currently available:

- Eddy current inspection
- Ultrasonic inspection
- Liquid penetrant inspection
- Magnetic particle inspection.

Participants may subsequently be examined according to EN 4179 level 1 and 2.

FORCE Technology's instructors have many years of practical experience in non-destructive inspections of various types of aircraft, and we have also been organising courses in the above inspection methods for many years.

FORCE Technology is the leading provider of NDT training courses in the Nordic region.

Our experience is based on more than 60 years of work with NDT within the aerospace industry and numerous other industries including energy production, oil and gas, steel fabrication and shipbuilding.
